

Privacy Policy

Intent

Protecting the privacy and confidentiality of personal information is an important aspect of the way Baseball Ontario conducts its business. Collecting, using, and disclosing personal information in an appropriate, responsible, and ethical manner is fundamental to Baseball Ontario's daily operations.

Baseball Ontario strives to protect and respect personal information of its customers, employees, business partners, and so on in accordance with all applicable regional and federal laws. Each staff member of Baseball Ontario must abide by this organization's procedures and practices when handling personal information.

Guidelines

Applicability

This Privacy Policy informs everyone of Baseball Ontario's commitment to privacy and establishes the methods by which privacy is ensured. This Privacy Policy applies to all personal information within Baseball Ontario's possession and control.

Personal information is defined as any identifying information about an individual or group of individuals, including name, date of birth, address, phone number, e-mail address, social insurance/security number, nationality, gender, health history, financial data, credit card numbers, bank account numbers, assets, debts, liabilities, payment records, credit records, loan records, opinions, and personal views.

Business information is defined as Baseball Ontario, business address, business telephone number, name(s) of owner(s), executive officer(s), and director(s), job titles, business registration numbers, and financial status. Business information is treated and handled with the same level of confidentiality, privacy, and respect as personal information.

Consent occurs and is obtained when an individual signs an application or other form containing personal information, thereby authorizing Baseball Ontario to collect, use, and disclose the individual's personal information for the purposes stated on the form or in the Appropriate Use section of this policy.

- Implied consent is granted by the individual when he/she signs the application or form. This allows Baseball Ontario to obtain or verify information from third parties (such as banks, credit bureaus, lenders, or insurance companies) in the process of assessing the eligibility of an individual, customer, client, job applicant, or business partner.

Policy Statements

- Baseball Ontario assumes full accountability for the personal information within its possession and control. This organization has appointed [insert name of contact person] as custodian of all privacy matters and legal compliance with privacy laws.
- Baseball Ontario obtains personal information directly from the individual to which the information belongs. Individuals are entitled to know how Baseball Ontario uses personal information and this organization will limit the use of any personal information collected only to what is needed for those stated purposes. Baseball Ontario will obtain individual consent if personal information is to be used for any other purpose. Baseball Ontario will not use that information without the consent of the individual.
- Under no circumstances will Baseball Ontario sell, distribute, or otherwise disclose personal information or contact lists to third parties. However, limited disclosure may be required as part of Baseball Ontario fulfilling its stated business duties and day-to-day operations. This may include consultants, suppliers, or business partners of Baseball Ontario, but only with the understanding that these parties obey and abide by this Privacy Policy, to the extent necessary of fulfilling their own business duties and day-to-day operations.
- Baseball Ontario will retain personal information only for the duration it is needed for conducting business. Once personal information is no longer required, it will be destroyed in a safe and secure manner. However, certain laws may require that certain personal information be kept for a specified amount of time. Where this is the case, the law will supersede this policy.
- Baseball Ontario vows to protect personal information with the appropriate security measures, physical safeguards, and electronic precautions. Baseball Ontario maintains personal information through a combination of paper and electronic files. Where required by law or disaster recovery/business continuity policies, older records may be stored in a secure, offsite location.
 - Access to personal information will be authorized only for the employees and other agents of Baseball Ontario who require the information to perform their job duties, and to those otherwise authorized by law.
 - Baseball Ontario's computer and network systems are secured by complex passwords. Only authorized individuals may access secure systems and databases.
 - Active files are kept in locked filing cabinets.
 - Routers and servers connected to the Internet are protected by a firewall, and are further protected by virus attacks or "snooping" by sufficient software solutions.
 - Personal information is not transferred to volunteers, summer students, interns, or other non-paid staff by e-mail or any other electronic format.
